Rooster is Put On 10 Days' Probation

St. Louis Resident Says Bird's Crowing Disturbed Morning Sleep.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 12.-The case of Charles Hilger vs. "Dickie," a diminu tive bantam rooster, came up before Judge Hogan, in police court. "Dickie" was charged with disturbing the peace of Hilger and his wife, and Judge Ho gan decided that the bantam must stop his crowing or be dispensed with.

Dickie, although the property of Jack Campbell, three years old, son of T. Francis Campbell, is in addition the pet of more than a dozen small children who live in the same block. After the Judge had put the rooster on ten days' probation in which to curb his crowing proclivities, the Campbells called on their agent and notified him they would move immediately.

Mrs. Hilger told in court of Dickie's remarkable ability to make noise. "I kept a record," she testified "and he started every morning at 4:40 o'clock. This morning he was five minutes be-

TOWIN SENATE SEAT

A. Grant Miller to Run in Nevada With Strong Labor and Suffrage Support.

How would it seem to have a Socialist in the Senate?

While the House has had a Socialist member for some time, the Senate has not, A real, live Socialist there would atir up the animals.

Nevada, according to prominent ocialists in Washington today, may end a Socialist to the Senate. A. Grant diller, a leading attorney, counsel for the Western Federation of Miners, is the man. He will make the race against Senator Pittman, who has been re-nominated by the Democrats, and Samuel Platt, Republican candidate.

Samuei Platt, Republican candidate.

Miller will have the backing of labor and of the suffrarists and is admittedly a formidable candidate.

Altogether, the Socialists believe this year will prove a good one for them. They expect 1,500,000 votes, as against $01,000 in 1912. They are calculating on drawing a large body of pacifist votes.

In the House, the Bocialists expect to make gains. They expect to re-elect Meyer London in New York. Victor Berger and W. R. Gaylord in Milwaukee are each going to try for election, Berger against Representative Stafford and Gaylord against Representative Cary.

FUNERAL RITES FOR

Five outlaws were placidly standing in a group at Muirkirk, Md., yesterday afternoon, sitting tight and not saying much. Then Alice picked up a piece of wire, scratched herself all over with it, and passed it to Lizzie, who was standing next to her. Each of the outlaws used the piece of wire. Anna then took it in her trunk, and threw it away.

Then a bale of hay was put before the elephants—for they were outlaw elephants attached to the Wheeler Bros'. Shows, now going into winter quarters at Muirkirk, which is fourteen miles from —ashington. The "bulls" took their tusks, broke the bale inte pieces, and made prepa stions for a most gargantuan meal.

These are stampede elephants—and that means that they will break away from their tether if anything frightens them, and it may be several days before they are caught. One of the bulls (that is the circus name for all elephants). Anna by name, stampeded the Ringling elephants at Danville, Va., a short time ago. When recaptured she Chains Won't Stop Them. "When they want to go, chains won't stop 'em!" was the verdict of the bull nan, who was stretched beside the five leathery outlaws in an easy chair sipping lemonade and watching Alice, who had a habit of untying her chain.

"They are all scared of 'cats,' even the little domestic cats," claimed the bull man, "but if it came to a fight it would be a bad argument. These animals are intelligent—so keen in fact, that they know everything you say to them."

know everything you say to them."

He stopped his conversation to yell at Alice, who was playfully nulling up wisns of straw about her stake.

"She's just playing. She'll do it a while, and then when I'm not looking she'll untie her chain and scamper away. She is a mighty smart bull.

"They always take their right place in line, and when they get scared and break away from their stakes, all I have got to do is to yell 'Line up.' and line they do. Alice goes first, then comes Lizzie. Anna, Plamond, and Booz."

Booz."

The show is now in its winter quarters—and thereby hangs a tale. The circus is not stranded for lack of funds, but for lack of men. Too much prosperity made it come to winter quarters while the summer season was yet in full blast, with coffers full and pockets bulging.

The Wheeler Bros: show is a twenty-four car show, with three rings, a side show, where the wild man from Mada-gascar, captured at the expense of seventeen men, three women, and four small children, looks at Abraham Lincoln, the educated pig, and wonders if educated pork chops are any more succulent than the common or garden variety.

Press Club Members to See Ince's Newest Film

The members of the National Press Club are to be given the first opportunity to see the newest Thomas H. Ince motion picture spectacle, "War's Women," at the club roof garden tomorrow night. The picture was produced in Cali-fornia with Frank Keenan and Enid Markey in the principle roles. It is said to be one of the most remarkable photodramas that has yet been produced dealing with conditions that have existed in Europe for the past two years. Originally the title of the film was Originally the title of the film was "The Destroyers," and it was supposed to tell the story of the march of an army through conquered territory. The conditions that are depicted are said to be based on actual happenings in Belgium, although care has been taken to emphasic the fact that the Jim play is an imaginative work and casts no reflection on any of the combatants in the present European struggle.

The Press Club showing of the picture is due to the courtesy of Samuel Cummins, of New York. The picture has never been produced publicly in Washington, although arrangements now are under way to show it here, it is understood.
